

TREATED AS A GOOD FRIEND.

Intimate Association Between the Arab and His Horse.

It is most interesting to note the way the Arab treats his faithful friends. So intimated, indeed, is the Arab pony by long usage and descent to the manner of life in the desert that even my own pony positively improved on the treatment and I never saw him so fit as when he came back from the trip.

If the Arab and his horse are by legend closely allied, they are in point of fact even more intimately connected. His mount is his first thought, and at all times by far the most interesting topic of conversation. He is unkempt, unclipped, unsheltered, for the Arab prefers to shackle him by means of two ropes, a short cord connecting the fore and hind fetlocks and a long line tethering him above the hind fetlock to a peg in the ground. Thus he can move about or roll at leisure, and should there be any rough herbage at hand can forage for it. Perhaps one of the principal reasons why the Arab so excels at long journeys is that the never worries himself nor does he ever distress his mount unless there is real cause to do so. He simply continues a steady walk all day and hardly ever gallops in the wild way in which one so often sees them depicted by artists.

SMALL BOY'S PATHETIC WISH.

Story with a Moral for Some Over Occupied Mothers.

He is a poor little neglected boy, whose mamma is so busy with mothers' meetings and club conventions and such important matters that she really hasn't time to attend to her children, says the New York Times. This little boy was entertaining a casual caller while his mother was upstairs putting the finishing touches to her toilet. Said the little boy, whose own toilet was sadly in need of attention:

"What does e. t. c. mean?"
"E. t. c.," asked the caller.
"Yes," said the little boy. "It's a sort of a word. It's in a book I was reading."

"Oh," said the caller. "Etc. is an abbreviation. It is Latin. It stands for et cetera."

The little boy looked puzzled. "I'm not in Latin yet," he said.

"Et cetera," explained the caller, "means—well, it means 'and so on.'"

The little boy was thoughtful for a moment, and then he said:

"I wish my mamma could find time to et cetera the buttons on my pants!"

And taking in his disheveled appearance, the visitor murmured, "Amen."

Improving.

"How is your son James getting on at college, Mr. Boggs?" asked the parson.

"Fine," said Boggs. "He's getting more businesslike every day."

"I am glad to hear that," said the clergyman. "How does the lad show it?"

"Well," said Boggs, "when he first went up and wanted money, he used to write asking for it. Now he draws on me at sight."—Lippincott's.

A Night Rider's Raid.

The worst night riders are calomel, croton oil or aloes pills. They raid your bed to rob you of rest. Not so with Dr. King's New Life Pills. They never distress or inconvenience, but always cleanse the system, curing colds, headache, constipation, malaria, 25c at all druggists.

At the Turn of the Road.

In the perspective from the turn of the road we may now see how many times the paralyzing hand of procrastination touched the good deeds we meant to do, the golden dreams we wished to do, and we wanted to do, but we did not will to do. The fault was not in conditions, but in us. We were not equal to opportunities. It is a false philosophy that teaches that opportunity calls only once at any man's house. It comes with the persistence of an importunate creditor, always in a new guise, and clamors for admission, but we may be too busy to answer the bell.—Circle Magazine.

To Be Expected.

"You have made money by turning your talents to advertising work, but have you not lost your literary prestige?" asked the friend.

"Well, I must admit," replied the poet, "that I have received a good deal of 'ad.' verse criticism."

Proper Treatment for Dysentery and Diarrhoea.

The great mortality from dysentery and diarrhoea is due to a lack of proper treatment at the first stages of the disease. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is a reliable and effectual medicine, and when given in reasonable time will prevent any dangerous consequences. It has been in use for many years and has always met with unvarying success. For sale by all dealers.

Call up Main 2 when you have any news. The Optic wants it.

If people with symptoms of kidney or bladder trouble could realize their danger they would without loss of time commence taking Foley's Kidney Remedy. This great remedy stops the pain and the irregularities, strengthens and builds up these organs and there is no danger of Bright's disease or other serious disorder. Do not disregard the early symptoms. O. G. Schaefer and Red Cross Drug Co.
